

Imago Relationship Therapy with the Masters

Please join us for this unique opportunity to learn about Imago Relationship Therapy from the Masters. Harville Hendrix who co-created Imago therapy, will be joined by three distinguished members of the Imago Clinical Faculty – Mike Borash, Rebecca Sears, and Jette Simon. Together, they will present the theory and practice of Imago Relationship Therapy, a powerful tool to transform relationships from conflict to connection and growth. Participants will learn ways to help couples create safety and fulfillment in their relationship, and will walk away with hope about your ability to really help couples. The proceeds of this workshop will go towards a scholarship for the basic clinical training in Imago therapy. This workshop is co-sponsored by Catholic University and MAIT, the Mid Atlantic Imago Therapists Association. Both of these organizations are committed to creating diversity among the professionals who offer therapy to the public.

Jette Simon, Clinical Psychologist (Danish degree), Mike Borash, MSED, LPC and Rebecca Sears, MDiv, LPC are all Clinical instructors in Imago Relationship Therapy. Between them, they have over 80 years experience as couples therapists and have trained therapists all over the world to become Imago therapists. Harville Hendrix, Ph.D, the co-founder of Imago Relationship Therapy, will be joining them.

Date: April 24, 2012, 9am – 5pm

Location: Catholic University, Caldwell Hall Auditorium

Cost: $150/person

For additional information, contact Ellen Thursby, Director of Professional Education and Training, thursby@cua.edu, 202-319-4388